TIGER HUNT IN PARIS.

Sensational "Kill" in the Bois De Boulogne.

An amusing tiger hunt took place in the Bois de Roulogue, says the Paris correspondent of " The Times." It was due to the inventive guiety of a number of cartomists and humorist draughtsmen who are now holding an exhibition in Paris. In a basement below the exhibition proper is installed a collection of animals carved out of various substances. It is known by the artists as "the ".Zoological Garden."

One of the principal denizers of this forest is a tiger. It was discovered that it had ascaped. A hunt was thereupon. organised, and huntsmen, tearfully and wonderfully armed and dressed, started in pursuit. This strange hand, armed to the teeth and costumed in klinki or terebats and track-conts, made various ends in the Champs Elysees before arriving at the Boss.

These y' it a swift and the lively curio-Sity of Parisians accustomed, though They las, to the eccentricities of their Holicinian cet rinings. Arrived in the Role the lively band beat the underwood in the hope of finding the tiger, which preprintly proved to be a parther. The features of this strange zoological specimen resembled those of a webl-known black-and-white artistes After this sensational kill the huntsmen went joyously forth to lunch.

THE THREE VIRTUES.

Amusing Address by Canon Horsley.

" Cultivate the three great virtues-Pride, Anger and Discontent," said Canon Horsley, distributing the prizes at the Strand School, Elm Park, Brixton. "That is the holiday task which I want you to do. Every sin is a virtue misdirected."

In racy language Canon Horsley explained what he meant in a speech that armised frequent languaer and was loudly applicated by 400 boys. "Cultivate the pride that prevents you from doing any-Thing mean. As you grow older you will suffer from want of anger. I would much rather you said your mosters were all 'beasts,' or 'bricks,' than that they were 'just fairly decent.' Never be so contented that you let things slide. Remember they never slide up-hill."

BUILDING NEW TRADITIONS. One of the most striking events of the prize-giving was the singing of the school song, of which one verse has the re-- frain:-" Here's to the school which is proud to be new ! It is a new school, 20 years old, which had its birth in the uncient buildings of King's College, in the Strand, and it has now just moved to fine new building on Brixton-hill. It is proud of not being olds and is endeavouring to build up new traditions of its own, but traditions not inferior to those finited in the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries, which are the pride of our public schools. The headmaster, Mr. R. B. Henderson, described the progress of the school in work and play; the progress of its scientific, debating, and natural history societies; and the successes of "Old Strandians. 2. Shooting is popular at the school, and one of its boys won for The Strand at the Schools' Bisley Just year n chall ongo shield for individual shooting

An annising incident took pinco when Cinem Hrancy, who had remarked that boye who won prizes at school often did nothing in sites life, was himself proartifed with a prize by the headma by The price was the kry the Cation stown stable-door, which her. Had possibly been put Bulgarian Queen's Tower In America.

Much mystery surrounds the visit which Queen Eleonore of Bulgaria Intends to pay the United States this summer. She is expected to arrive in New York in May for a tour of the country, but the reasons for the journey are unknown, and no official notice thus far Shum Che has been taken by the Washington Gov- Canton ernment of her intentions.

It is known that the Queen recently wanted Mr. C. B. Brown, the Commissioner to Bulgaria of the San Francisco Exposition, to act as her personal agent during her American tour, but he declined. He is quoted as saying that the Queen explained to him that the object of her journey was to refute the stories of Bulgarian atrocities during the Belkan war, and to secure American sympathy for the Bulgarians. This reason is believed to be absurd. It is estimated that there are not more than 30,000 Bulgarians in the United States and Canada. and America's attitude, towards Balkan Mr J. L. Alabester Mr A. RAIDERS PUNISHED. BRILLIANT FORCED MIRCH ON

INDIAN PRONTIER.

Villages Burned.

The Evening Standard has received so iar. from a correspondent who took part in it a full account of the recent punitive expendition on the north-west frontier of India. It is shown to have been a well planned operation reflecting the greatest credit upon the officer in command, Generul Bannatine-Allsson, and his troops, whose endurance was severely tested. The object of the expedition was to punish a band of tribesmen who, early one morning, descended on the village of that, according to the Indian Daily News, China in British territory, and brutally murdered eight Hindus, afterwards looting the village. This was not an isolated incident, but was part of a series of frontier raids, and it was decided to take The storm, which suddenly burst at immediate action. · Careful precautions were taken to prevent the tribesmen The hawsen of the Sanctonia lying at getting wind of the operations, and these No. 19 coal bertir snapped and smashed appear to have been successful. Secreey and rapidity of movement are absolutely ossential to expeditions of this natura.

NO SLEEP IN WET DIVOTACS. On February 20 General Bannatine Allsson assued orders for the Nowshern Brigade and attached troops to move out on managuvres, with white bands on their head-dresses. Ball ammunition was not issued, being stowed away in the ammunition column caissons. The brigade marched to a camp north-sast of Mardau on the 21st, a distance of nineteen miles. Rain poured down all the ifurnoon, delaying the arrival of cart transport and making the bivouses too wet for the troops to sleep. The expedition was made up of two squadrons of Guides Cavalry, 30th Mountain Battery, a half-company of sappers and miners, 1st Durham Light Infantry (500 men), Guides Infantry (400 men), 24th Punjabis (500 men), 46th Punjabis (250 shuft bent, and several of her plates damnen), and 82nd Punjabis (400 men) They were supported by the 8rd Brigade. In the morning, the very trying merch COMMERCIAL LETTERS OF CRE- to Rustam, through doep mud, was undertaken, and shortly before twelve o'clock that evening they began a night march to the Malanon Pass, 3,150 feet TRAVELLERS CHECKS sold wid high and twelve miles distant. The read was in places narrow and muddy, and for the most part led up the rocky bed of a nullah. The march was a very severe trial for troops that had had rough campaigning for two days pra-miles from the head of the pass, having marched ten miles in seven hours. The enemy could be heard in the distance beating tom-toms and firing. The Guides and 24th Punjabis declared they wanted no rest, and General Bennatine Allagon decided to push on. The pass was scourcd at 8.15 a.m. The 24th Punjabia and about sixty sappers and miners pressed on, and at 9.15 burnt Nawsi Kili, about miles beyond the pass. STORM AT CALTUTTA

Serious Damage to Shipping In Port.

On April 23 a nor'-Wester, which fortuntely did not last more than twenty minutes, played havon among some steamers lying at the coal berths in Kidderpore docks, with the result nearly a lack of rupees damage was done to shipping and a fairly good amount to the port commissioners, while the dradger Bruiser narrowly escaped sinking. about 6.15 p.m., blew with great velocity. the Beaziliana's life-bosts and broke her davita. The structure on the bridge was carried away and the Sanotoria drove the Braziliana into wooden jettice cousing considerable damage to the jetties. The wind changed from north-west to due west and again to east and the Sanctoria swung round and out away the stern steel hawsers of the Baron Cawdor lying at No. 20 berth, and the latter steamer then swung astern across the dock and collided with the Clearway lying at No. 22 berth, which she damaged slightly. The Baron Cawdor's plates were dented. By the time the fury of the storm had abated and the port authorities and ships' officers got their vessels under control and they were all in due time made fast again. The following day the Sauctoria was taken into dry dock and she was found to have suffered considerable damnge. Her propellers were broken, her aged. It is estimated that the extent of her damage is about Rs. 40,000, while those of other steamers are from ten to fifteen thousand rupees.

SHIPBUILDING WORK,

WHILE the shipbuilding work in hand in the United Kingdom has deas compared with three months ago, and nearly 173,000 tons as compared with a year ago, the situation, says ing to a Chinese concubine, at No. 8 a British naval officer, authorized countries shows no falling off in pre- high. sent activity. The total for Germany I for instance, shows an increase, as compared with a year ago, of 38,413 tons, equal to 7.2 per cent,; in I France, of 31.231 tons, or about 16 per cent.; in Japan the total is more thur double that of a year ago; in Norway it is 18,472 tons, or 62 pecent., "higher: and in the British Colonies the total is 56,806 tons, as compared with 22,758 tons. The instance "where there is an important] folling off is in the United States, ! where the total now is 78,000 tons! Hess than n' year ago, equal to 34 per cent. These facts are deduced from the returns just issued by Lloyd's Register. There are two reasons diminution in the work in hand in damage the works and endanger life. this country while there is an increase of all vessels until they are delivered. traction than foreign builders. Consequently, the state of activity abroad is prolonged to a farther period fiter the collapse of shipbuilding orders their obtains in this country over, shipowners in Great Britain have very largely met their requirements for the present in respect of liners, and as low freights continue, there is little disposition to pay high prices for new tonnage. Consequently, comparatively few orders are now being booked. The figures given for the United Kingdom by Lloyd's Register are less favourable even than they seen, at first sight. During the past quarter for instance, only 163 vessels were commenced, the collective tonnage of these being 372,965, whereas, during the same period, there were launched 148 vessels, of 429,125 tons. This excess of tonnage launched over tonnage commenced has been the rule for a considerable time, so that, of the tonnage on hand at the present time. a much larger proportion is in an advanced state. As a result of the completion a mouth hence of the from the Glasgow total at one stroke 10 per cent, of the total tonnage now on hand, and similar result follows from the completion of other large shipsalmost ready for delivery. The number of merchant vessels under construction is 535, representing a gross tonnage of 1,890,856 tons, and this, as we have said, is 173,000 tons less than a year ago. We have made reference to the increase in the tonnage in foreign countries, but the total to-day is still only 478 vessels, of 1,452,298 tons, so that the shipmilding yards in this country to-day have 438,000 tons more in progress than the yards in all the countries outside the United Kingdom. A year ago, however, our excess over the the whole of the other countries was 686,000 tons. In other words, the total tonnage in course of construction at home is 173,000 tons less than a year ago, and the total abroad is 75,000 tons more. As regards the warship work in Great Britain there is an increase of 17,000 tons. The total tounage for the British Navy has increased to the extent of 43,000 tons, but the tonnage for foreign navies has decreased by 26,000 tons.

THE LATE MISS IMPSON.

Most Accomplished Artiste of The Bandmann Company.

Miss Florence Imeann, who died in the Rengoon General Hospital on April 22, had an attack of enterio fever shortly after her arrival in Rangoon and was admitted to the bespital on March 4, having made only one appearance in Rangoon with the Band mann Opera Company when she played the part of Dora Manners in The Girl From Urah at the Jubilee Hall on February 2s. She was taken ill the next day, but it was indisposition. She grew worse and was removed from the Minto Mansions to the hospital. She had a very bad attack, but was so far convalencent that Mr. Bandmann was sent for to take bor away, as she was not quite able to travel alone. He and Mrs. Bardmann on getting the news came over to Rangoon from India at once, arriving on April 20 when they were greeted with the news that she had had a relapse and she died the following afternoon. Miss Imeson combined with a fine stage presence, a splendid voice and knowledge singing and, according to the Rangoon Gazeite, Mr. Bandmann looked upon her as one of the most accomplished artistes that has ever been under his management. She was twenty-seven years old and had been on the stage for ten or a dozen years, many of which had been spent under the management of Mr. George Edwardes. Africa with Mr. Edwardes's companies,

> The parade for the big race took place rather later than it should have done, and, as was understood would be the case, Maiden Erlegff did not take part in it, but joined the others at the starting port, They went past the stands in the order of the card headed by Thistleton, who looked exceptionally well. Wrack moved satisfactorily in his cantor, but the plain-headed Son Yat showed anything but taking selion. as he strikes the ground very hen ilv, whilst Moscato seemed unable to stride out at all. Several minutes were out to waste at the start owing to the vagaries of Sands of "ime, and she destroyed any chance she may have possessed by whirping half round when the tapes rose and losing a good many lengths. Thanks to Tuxedo and Braxted, the pice was a cracker from the outset the mile and a quarter being covered in the exceptionally fast time of 2min brec. After once securing the lead Turedo was never headed until half way up the straight, at which point he had run himself clean out, but Branted stayed on better than he has ever done before, and the fact of his finishing third seems to show that he must have acquired stamica with age. The victory of Maiden Erlegh, howover, could not have been gained in amnother style, and at lest be har fully justfied in public the home reputation he has slways enjoyed. He has been a heartbreaking horse for his persistent followers, and it was fortunate indeed that he was caught just in the right humanur this after Boon.
